We love the beautiful colors and blooms of Spring, but we don't love the red, itchy, dry or watery eyes that often go along with them! A comprehensive eye exam can help diagnose or confirm the cause of your eye irritation and get you on the road to relief. Early treatment will also help minimize any permanent or long-term vision damage. Come see us soon!

Saluting Our Soldiers

For their courage, service, sacrifice and dedication, we honor the men and women, past and present, of our military.

We will always remember that freedom is not free.

We salute those who put their lives on the line for our country, making the ultimate sacrifice in defense of the land they loved. We owe our freedom and our way of life to these brave men and women, and we proudly honor their memories this Memorial Day.

To all of our veterans past and present, and those in uniform today, thank you for your service to our country.

We wish you and yours a Safe & Happy Memorial Day!

Lake Region Electric Cooperative is pleased to announce their 2018 Air Source Heat Pump (ASHP) PROMOTION
For a limited time, they will be doubling, even tripling their rebate on ASHPs.
Ask Ugstad Plumbing for more information.

AIR SOURCE HEAT PUMPS (ASHP) provide home cooling and supplemental heating with 72% less electricity than conventional air conditioners and furnaces. You can switch between cooling and heating directly from the thermostat, putting you in complete control.

- Higher Efficiency - You can save you up to 30% on your home cooling expenses by using an ASHP instead of other conventional air conditioning units. They are also 200%-400% more efficient when it comes to home heating. This is possible because they use advanced technology to transfer more energy than it consumes.
- Easy on the Environment - These units are super-efficient and they cut down on the depletion of limited natural resources and their extended equipment life means less pollution associated with discarding old units or parts and manufacturing their replacements.
- A Safe Solution - Since ASHPs operate without using an open flame, they don't create any products of combustion such as carbon monoxide and other emissions. No need for venting - or worrying.

In Your Garden
THOSE DARN BUGS
By Bev Johnson, Otter Tail County Master Gardener

No matter what Bunkey plants, there seems to be a bug that wants to eat it. For instance, last year his potatoes were nearly defoliated by potato bugs, and the tomato horn worm turned his tomato plants into skeletons. This year, he vowed to get ahead of them and to that end, he spent most of a morning in his favorite store reading labels in the poison row. If you, like Bunkey, have had bugs eating more than their share of your garden, here are a few ingredients you should be looking for.

Start with the low impact insecticides. B.T. is a naturally occurring bacterial disease of caterpillars including butterfly and moth caterpillars. It is a stomach poison. There is one that is effective against the potato beetle, B.T. var. tenebrionis but this is hard to find. Spinosad is made by fermenting a soil dwelling bacterium and works much like B.T. as it attacks the nervous system of the bugs that eat leaves. This includes caterpillars, leafminers, and thrips. It slows down grasshoppers and leaf beetles.

If you need to get rid of insect or mite eggs or soft bodied insects like aphid, scale crawlers and mites, grab a horticultural oil. This may be plant oil, petroleum, or even fish oil. It works by smothering the critter. Insecticidal soaps work by disrupting cell membranes. This is why you can spray soapy water on your house to kill boxelder bugs. It won't work on lady bugs as they are armored by a hard shell.

Neem products are derived from a tropical tree. They are generally divided into one of 3 groups: azadirachtin based, neem oil based or neem soap. The products work in several ways. They can inhibit feeding, starving the bugs, repel them or disrupt the life cycle by preventing them from molting.

It is generally effective against aphids, caterpillars, beetles, leafminers and thrips.

Pyethrins are made from ground flowers of chrysanthemum. It is a fast acting, contact insecticide that paralyzes the bug. It can be used against a wide spectrum of insects. Pyethroids is a group of related insecticides, all based on the chemistry of naturally occurring pyethurm. They are long acting residual insecticides and can kill a wide range of bugs. The words to look for are permethrin, cyfuthrin, birntrin, lambda cyalothrin, deltamethrin, and esfenvalerate

Now for the chemicals Bunkey resorts to as a last resort as they are on the dangerous side. Acephate is an organophosphate that kills on contact. It is also used as a foliar systemic with residual activity. In other words, it hangs around for a while after application. It kills a wide range of insects including caterpillars, sawflies and leafminers. Malathion is also an organophosphate. It's a broad spectrum contact killer that only lasts a short time. Another of these is Trichlofon. It kills grubs and caterpillars in turf. Carbaryl, usually called Sevin, is a carbamate. It is a contact killer with a moderate length residual. It is quite effective on beetles and many other insects.

One chemical to avoid at all costs is imidaclopid. This is a necotinoid. It is a systemic killer. It affects the nervous system of any sucking insect or any pollinator that may get nectar or pollen from a plant with this chemical in it. It kills both on contact and systemically. It is usually applied to the soil making the whole plant poisonous.

The lesson for the day is READ THE LABEL.

JON'S STORY
Jon Martinson and his wife Tessa have been a part of the Fergus Falls community for nearly 10 years, most recently employed at Adams Seed and Morning Son Christian School, respectively. They have two young children, Gentry and AJ. On January 17, Jon was diagnosed with Metastatic Melanoma cancer that was discovered in his liver, lungs and brain. He immediately underwent a series of radiation treatments to his brain to help alleviate the swelling and pressure that were causing him severe headaches and dizziness. In last three months, Jon has been hospitalized due to blood clots in his lungs, undergone a second round of radiation to the brain when the headaches returned, and is continuing active treatment through oral medication to attack his cancer. Both Jon & Tessa have needed to step away from their jobs to concentrate on Jon's cancer fight & their family. Funds raised will bless this family immensely.

His Smile
Though his smile is gone forever,
And his hand I cannot touch,
We still have so many memories,
Of the one we loved so much.
His memory is our keepsake,
With which we never part.
God has him in His keeping,
We have him in our heart.
Sadly missed, but never forgotten.
