It's an excellent place to work."

Productive Alternatives

We believe that Disability does not mean Inability.
We are a person-centered, non-profit organization that helps people with disabilities discover their gifts, earn supportive wages, and live life to their full ability in the community they love.

We Can Help Meet Your Workforce Needs

Productive Alternatives specializes in creating paths to employment for adults with disabilities by providing:

- Career Exploration
- Skills Development
- Job Readiness
- Job Coaching
- Job Placement
- Community Integration
- Transportation Options

Work is More Than a Paycheck

What does it mean to work?

Most people think of work as a way to pay for housing, food, a car and a litany of other needs and wants. This of course is important and essential for all of us, but for adults with disabilities, work is often so much more than a paycheck.

We believe that everyone who wants to work should be given the support to do so, despite level of ability. We've spent decades forging partnerships with people and businesses throughout the region who share our belief. For adults with disabilities, work offers the gift of pride, dignity, friendships, respect, self-sufficiency, and being a contributing member of their communities.

Isn't that what we all want and deserve?

Benefits of Hiring Persons with Disabilities

- Dependability
- Strong work ethic
- Reduced turnover rates
- Enhanced staff morale
- Job coaches provided
- Increased hiring pool
- Flexibility
- Tax incentives
- Win-win for everyone!

"We've had a great experience with Productive Alternatives. Employees we have hired from there are on-time, productive and dependable."

- Greg Rosten, Thiele Technologies

TIPS FOR REALIZING GOALS IN THE YEAR AHEAD

The dawn of a new year represents a chance to start anew and set goals for the months ahead. New Year's resolutions are often made to provide the motivation people need to improve their lives and make a new year as productive and happy as possible.

While people who make New Year's resolutions fully intend to realize those goals, few actually stick to the game plan. According to researchers at the University of Scranton, just 8 percent of people who make their New Year's resolutions actually achieve those resolutions. While that might make it seem like the odds are against men and women who have resolved to improve their lives in the year ahead, the following tips can help adults realize their goals for the new year and beyond.

Emphasize time management. Hectic schedules can quickly derail resolutions. Many people want to eat healthier and exercise more but find their time is stretched pretty thin, which can make it difficult to get to the gym or prepare healthy meals at home. Finding ways to manage time more effectively can make it easier to stay committed to New Year's resolutions.

Right down your daily schedule and look for ways to free up time. If you routinely take an hour for lunch each day, use that time to exercise and eat at your desk when you return from your walk, workout or jog. Try to wake up 30 to 60 minutes earlier each morning to exercise, and make use of time before bed by preparing a healthy lunch for the following day.

Make your goals public. By publicly declaring your intention to improve your life, you're putting some positive pressure on yourself to fully commit to your goal. Friends and loved ones can be great sources of support, and once they're aware of your efforts, you likely won't want to let them down. Once you have decided on a resolution, post your short-term and long-term goals to your Facebook page or let your immediate family and closest friends know of your goals in person. Their encouragement can help you stay on track, and they may even offer to help you realize your goals.

Keep track of your progress. Keep a resolutions journal or start a blog that allows you to write about your efforts. If your goal is to pay down debt, make a spreadsheet that tracks your progress. That spreadsheet might be more motivational than simply seeing a loan or credit card balance gradually reduce on your monthly statement. Writing about your trials and errors can help others and also provide a great way for you to explore your approach and tinker with it to ensure your ultimate success.

Expect setbacks. If realizing resolutions was easy, the success rate would be greater than 8 percent. Setbacks are inevitable, so don't allow them to derail your efforts. Even if setbacks occur when you're well on your way to success, regroup and get back on track without getting down on yourself.

Reward yourself. Don't hesitate to reward yourself as you realize your short-term goals and draw closer to making your long-term goal a reality. For example, if weight loss is your goal and you've adhered to your diet and lost some weight, reward yourself with a favorite meal eaten in moderation.

New Year's resolutions may be difficult to realize, but a few simple strategies can help you achieve your goals and enjoy the fruits of your hard work.

These local businesses would like to say have a safe and happy New Year! They look forward to serving you in 2019!

Tri-County Health Care Hosts Orthopedic, Arthritis Seminars

Ben Robertson, M.D., orthopedic surgeon at Tri-County Health Care, will host three seminars focusing on arthritis, joint pain and the new joint replacement program at Tri-County. Robertson offers knee, hip and shoulder replacements, which are reliable options for those with damaged and arthritic joints when physical therapy, medication or life modifications don't help.

The seminars are free and open to the public. The content for each seminar will be the same, so community members need only attend one, if desired. Light refreshments will be served. The times and dates are as follows:

- Monday, Jan. 7, 5:30-6:30pm, Good Shepard Lutheran Church, Henning
- Monday, Feb. 4, 5:30-6:30pm, Wadena-Deer Creek Middle/High School Robertson Theatre, Wadena
- Monday, March 4, 5:30-6:30pm, Assumption of Our Lady Catholic Church, Menahga

To see alternate dates in case of inclement weather, visit TCHC.org. For more information about the seminars or orthopedics at Tri-County, contact Medley Shamp, joint care coordinator, at 218-632-8768.

About Tri-County Health Care: Tri-County Health Care is a private, not-for-profit health care system located in Wadena, Minnesota. It offers care services such as minimally invasive surgery, cancer care, diagnostic imaging, obstetrics and rehabilitation. Tri-County operates a 25-bed hospital and medical clinic in Wadena, as well as five satellite clinics and three physical therapy clinics across Todd, Wadena and Otter Tail counties. Satellite clinic locations include Bertha, Henning, Ottertail, Sebeka and Verndale. Visit TCHC.org.
